An Interim Final Rule (IFR) provides new guidance concerning the forgiveness and loan review processes. Borrowers will not be required to perform potentially complicated FTE or salary reduction calculations, but still have to make some certifications and provide documentation for payroll and non-payroll costs. Of the 5.2 million PPP loans approved by the SBA, 3.57 million were for $50,000 or less and accounted for about $62 billion of the $525 billion in PPP loans.

The pandemic virus destroyed this self-sustaining business model, making strategic and tactical plans no longer relevant. You will learn how to re-strategize your business planning to maintain an adequate level of cash on hand and get suppliers and vendors to make their payments when due.
